

BILL OF SALE

The following document is a legally binding agreement describing the terms of sale of personal property between Sellerspace.io and SELLER NAME.

Parties: Seller – SELLER NAME | Buyer – Sellerspace.io

SELLER NAME sells to Sellerspace.io the following property: Amazon Seller Account (next Account). Account name: ACCOUNT NAME.

During a 3-day period after the payment is received by the seller, both parties agree on a date and time for the Account Transfer to take place. This can either be done via a Zoom call with our manager or alternatively the account transfer can be completed independently. During the account transfer the seller’s personal details will be changed to the details of the account buyer. The following details are changed during the account transfer process: email, password, legal name, bank card, business address, phone number, 2-step verification & bank account details.

After the account transfer has taken place, the seller is obligated to log out of the account. The seller is also obligated not to make any attempts to log into the account after the account handover as this may lead to the account being suspended. The seller loses all rights to both the Amazon Seller and Buyer accounts.

The seller is obligated to keep the account details unchanged (email, password, legal name, bank card, business address, phone number, 2-step verification, bank account.) without first seeking the buyers agreement.

The seller is obligated to not create any new Amazon Seller Accounts with the same details that were used on Amazon previously as this can lead to account suspension. The following details should not be re-used to create a new account: Name, address, email, bank card & bank account details.

Seller agrees to provide support to the buyer as a gesture of good will to help the transition process of the business to the buyer. Seller agrees to honor all requests for information from the buyer within 48 hours of account transfer. Seller agrees to provide support services for a term not exceeding 30 days from the date of sale.

All payment accounts (bank account, credit/debit cards, etc.) linked to the aforementioned seller account shall not transfer to the buyer. The buyer agrees to delete any payment accounts still linked to the Amazon account upon taking ownership. Additionally, the buyer agrees to not use any payment accounts owned by the seller, after account ownership has been transferred.

No warranty of sale is expressed or implied. Once payment is complete, the seller shall transfer ownership of the account to the buyer in full. Once the transfer of ownership is complete, the sale is final. No refunds or exchanges shall be offered by either party.
